When Jesus shows up unexpectedly

GRACE NOTES

When it comes to serving at my church, I have two jobs.

As I've mentioned before, I'm a communion server. I'm also emcee for the monthly senior ministry events, dinners and such.

With a microphone in hand I quiet them down, tell a few senior-related jokes, dismiss the people at the tables to go get their food and introduce featured guests.

Sometimes I refill cups of iced tea or clear plates away.

Basically, I just show up and try not to mess things up so badly that God can't fix it.

A few weeks ago we had our first seniors' event of the 2013-14 season, an Italian dinner. I told the story of 82-year-old Morris who went to his doctor for a physical. A week or so later the doctor sees Morris walking through town with his arm around a gorgeous young woman.

"Looking good there Morris," the doctor says.

"Just taking your advice, Doc," Morris tells him. "You said, 'Get a hot mama and be cheerful.'"

"That's not what I said," the doctor replies. "I said you've got a heart murmur and to be careful!"

That's funny when you're 65, 70 or 80.

The room was packed with people, many of whom I've known, at least by sight, for 20-plus years. A few have lost their spouses, which is sad.

On the one hand, they're getting out and socializing. On the other hand, they're now alone, but not really because when two or more gather in Jesus' name, especially in his house, Jesus shows up and joins in the activities and the table conversations.

Usually at these senior events I, too, join in the conversation. However, on that particular evening I felt like watching, taking mental note of the goings on. I noted a lot of laughter, a lot of good-natured teasing of one another. You have to love someone and feel loved to be able to give and take teasing.

The featured program of the evening was a five-part harmony group, five men who sang gospel songs.

As they sang, I watched how people listened. There was some toe-tapping and moving of feet, some head nodding, some smiling. I felt removed from it all and quite clinical, as if I should be wearing a white lab coat and holding a clip board, checking off boxes.

And then Jesus showed up, not that he hadn't been there all along — I just hadn't realized he had shown up for me.

The singing group, the Journeymen, began singing "Jesus Loves Me."

At first, my jaded, "too cool for school" attitude got the best (or maybe the worst) of me and I silently snickered.

Really? "Jesus Loves Me"?

"Yes," the men sang. "Yes, Jesus loves me."

"Little ones to him belong." (Hmmm. I'm little, I thought.)

"They are weak" (That's me) "but he is strong" (Yeah, but is he strong enough to break through my hard heart?)"

"Yes, Jesus loves me." (I hear you, but how can that be when I don't love him like I should?)

As they sang, line by line, it was as if Jesus himself slipped into the seat next to me, leaned over and whispered, "This one's for you."

I felt my frosty heart warm just a bit. I'm a tough cookie and I keep people — and Jesus — at arm's length for the most part, but every once in a while Jesus shows up and I have a moment.

And then the song and the moment ended, but not really because I'm still thinking about it.

When Jesus shows up, he brings grace and mercy with him. He breaks through your strongest defenses and touches the parts of you deep inside that you hadn't even known had been damaged.

When Jesus shows up, without a word, except for maybe the words of a simple children's song, he lets you know that he hears your prayers, even the ones you dare not pray lest you be disappointed.

When Jesus shows up and you have a moment, even when the moment ends, it never really ends because you carry it with you so whenever you start thinking you'll never be as faithful as you want to be, that's when you remember "Yes, Jesus loves me," and ultimately everything will be OK. And you know it's true.

USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) Increases Guaranteed Loan Limit

John W. McCauley, State Executive Director for Kentucky's Farm Service Agency (FSA), announces that the loan limit for the Guaranteed Loan Program increased to $1,355,000 on Oct. 1. The limit is adjusted annually based on the "Prices Paid to Farmers Index", compiled by the National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS).

"Raising the guaranteed loan limit will allow FSA to better meet the financial needs of producers across the Commonwealth," said McCauley.

FSA guaranteed loans allow lenders to provide agricultural credit to farmers who do not meet the lender's normal underwriting criteria. Farmers and ranchers apply for a guaranteed loan through a commercial lender, and the lender arranges for the guarantee. FSA can guarantee up to 95 percent of the loss of principal and interest on a loan. Guaranteed loans can be used for both farm ownership and operating purposes.

Producers should contact their local FSA Service Center with questions about farm loans or by visiting www.fsa.usda.gov.

one fowl swoop. We rake and pile and they jump. I propose a new approach that just may make us all happy: adults can still rake a little, children can still play and trees will benefit from some mulch and fertilizer. At the farm raking leaves is passé; we let them stay where they fall (with reason, of course) which is usually beneath their canopy.

This may be a bit of an over statement because some small yards can quickly fill up with leaves, smothering grass and perennial beds but there is a happy medium. Rake away some leaves, composting them out back for use in the garden later; rake small leaves back beneath the canopy of trees, into shrub borders, perennial beds or the vegetable garden; and use the mulching mower to chop the big stuff right back onto the lawn.

If you walk in the forest what do you see? The forest floor is as rich as it gets in terms of soil. Years of leaf mold has collected, decayed and returned valuable nutrients back to the soil which is then used by the trees of the forest. Traditionally, in our own back yards, we remove this valuable natural resource and set in on the curb to be taken away by big trucks and dumped in a landfill. There is something not quite right about this, especially if we turn around and buy a high nitrogen fertilizer to spread on lawns and around trees and shrubs. Use common sense to remove excess leaves but reserve some and use it the way nature intended. Not only will the leaves feed our plants they will also act as mulch reducing weeds and conserving moisture.

If the excess seems cumbersome consider starting a compost pile. Compost is generally comprised of leaves, grass clippings, twigs, garden waste and kitchen waste (no meat products allowed). As the organic material breaks down it turns into nutrient rich food for your garden and landscape material...for free!

In order to maintain a healthy compost pile the goal is to create an environment that encourages mycorrhizal fungal and bacterial activity. This activity, along with earth worms is what helps break down the organic material into compost. Using leaves as mulching material around your plants and trees will also encourage this desired activity, again, for free!

It is important to turn your compost to supply oxygen to the material. This fact sometimes overwhelms people...do not worry, one flip a month is usually enough. Oxygen and water encourage the right type of bacterial growth. You can add water and horse manure to seed up the healthy aerobic activity which aids in the process of decomposition. Otherwise just be patient, turn the pile from time to time, and you will have some great compost next spring.

If a compost pile seems unlikely then simply transfer the leaves to the vegetable garden. Leaves left to decay over the winter in the garden plot can be turned under in spring before you are ready to plant. Doing this every year will increase soil fertility, drainage and tilth which will feed your vegetables slowly throughout the summer without having to buy additional amendments or fertilizer; vegetables fed this way show an increase in yield and pest resistance.

A warm welcome to the season of giving

The giving season is upon us and there are so many ways to help others -- here at home or across the globe.

Each year the Christmas Angel program, which is managed through the Family Resource Centers, grows beyond everyone's expectations. Somehow, though, the needs are met and there are children who wake up Christmas morning to gifts they wouldn't otherwise receive.

Through an application process, families who have fallen on tough times submit gift ideas for their child or children.

No names are linked to the angels as their wish lists are hung on a Christmas tree at the Family Resource building located next to Harrison County High School.

Various groups and individuals select an angel and then agree to purchase at least some of the items on the child's list.

Participation varies, I have been told, from buying one of the items to filling the list and then some.

There is no doubt that we are all feeling the strains of the economy. However, it is wonderful to be able to fill the wishes of a child at Christmas.

Becky Barnes
Editor

Even if you don't think you can select an angel from the tree, you can still give.

Because not all of the angel lists are filled, it is sometimes necessary for Angel Tree organizers to make a couple of purchases to finish them out.

So if you would like to just make a monetary donation, a pack of socks or even underwear, contact the Family Resource Center at 234-7160 to find out how you can help.

In my mind, it's always about the children. I want to make things brighter for the kids no matter what their family situation might be.

That's also a benefit of the Christmas Angel Tree project. It's completely anonymous so you don't know anything about the child's situation.

It makes it easier to be non-judgmental. We give simply because we want to give.

It's also time for Operation Christmas Child, which is also an outreach program to help kids who would otherwise do without.

Operation Christmas Child is a program through Samaritan's Purse that works with churches in communities to provide shoeboxes that will be delivered around the world.

The program started in 1993 and has since grown to include children in more than 130 countries.

Many local churches have distributed shoe boxes that can be packed with toys and personal hygiene items.

This year boxes may be dropped off at the First Church of God on North Main Street between Nov. 18 and 25.

For more information, go to www.samaritans-purse.org.

The Harrison County Food Pantry is another way to help out locally.

As I said before, needs in our community are growing. And it's not just children in need; it's entire families.

Some of those families can be given a hand-up through the local food pantry.

Years ago when I first started writing stories about the food pantry, it was housed at the Cynthiana Presbyterian Church.

As the food pantry expanded to help the growing numbers of families in crisis, it had to be moved to a larger location. It was first moved to what was then the Community Education Building and then to its current site on Locust Street.

Margaret Watson and Marilyn Wash head up a team of volunteers who make the food pantry work.

They receive donations of food and money and turn that into a grocery of sorts for families to "shop" for items to supplement their groceries.

Throughout the year, various events or organizations will have food drives to help out at the shelter. At other times, volunteers have to rely on donations.

Christmas time is particularly difficult because kids are home from school for extended vacation which puts a greater demand on the family's food stock.

If you plan to make a donation to the food pantry, make it items that you or your family would eat, like cereal and canned fruit, vegetables and dried beans.

It should be commercially packaged foods.

Home-canned food items cannot be accepted.

If you have questions about any of the organizations, give them a call. The volunteers for each project are passionate about what they are doing.

The Harvest of Hope Community Thanksgiving Dinner is also upon us.

Unity Christian Church sponsors the dinner for anyone who wants the traditional meal complete with all the trimmings.

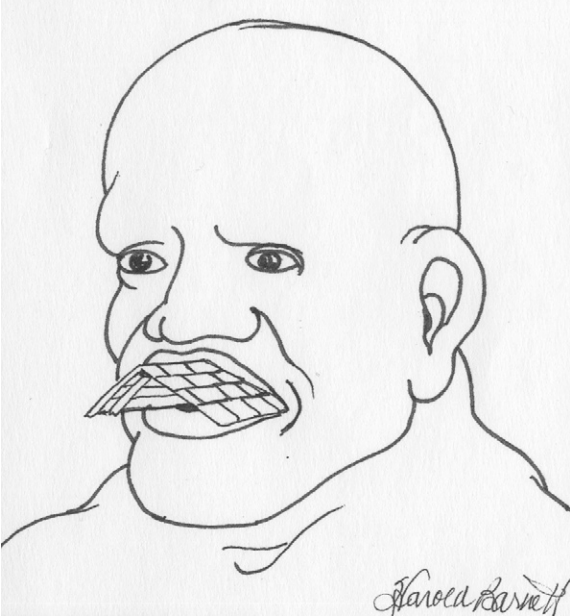

Volunteers cook, serve and will even deliver the holiday meals to anyone, not just those with financial or health hardships.

The only request is that reservations be made ahead of time by calling 588-7712.

Delivery hours are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Dine-in hours at Harrison County High School cafeteria are from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30.

Bypass should be 27, not 62

To the editor:

I think since the newly opened bypass around Cynthiana runs on the west side of our town from US 27 on the north side to US 27 on the south side, it should be called US 27 by-pass and the old US 27 through town should be named US 27 business. I don't agree with it being called US 62 in any way.

Reader appreciates tribute to veterans in the Democrat

To the editor:

I want to express my deep appreciation to The Democrat for publishing a special tribute to all those who have served our country, both past and present. It is not only patriotic to provide this service but also it shows sincere honor and respect. At a time when we observe some of our officials showing absolute neglect and even disdain for veterans' benefits, it is commendable to see someone doing the right thing.

There is no other segment of our society that is more worthy of our utmost honor and respect than those who give up their private lives and go to foreign lands to serve in the cause of freedom. All those who have worn the uniform of our armed services, past and present, deserve to be honored for their service.

Thank you, Democrat staff, for your commitment in this regard.

SNAP cuts mean more food pantry demand

By JOSH SHEPHERD, News Writer

Cuts in funding for the federal food benefits program known as SNAP may strain the ability of the local food pantry to serve family needs, said director Margaret Watson.

On Friday, Nov. 1, stimulus funding for the federal Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), formerly known as the food stamp program, came to an end. The cut means that families on assistance could see an average of about $35 less per month, according to the Kentucky Cabinet for Health and Family Services.

A release from the cabinet said that customers and recipients were notified in advance of the cuts. That may be the reason the Food Pantry, managed by the Harrison County Ministerial Association, has noted an increase in the numbers of their customers in the last two months.

Watson said that volunteers at the pantry have noted an increase in the numbers of families requesting help at the pantry, particularly toward the end of October.

"I think there have been some families who may have had cuts to their food benefits earlier this year. We have seen more people at the pantry than usual," Watson said.

It used to be that if the pantry saw eight to 10 people in a day, the volunteers would say they were busy. Now those numbers are a slow time, she said.

On one day alone, Watson said, the pantry spent about $1,200 on food, which was over and above what they had in stock at the time.

In anticipation of increasing demand for food supplies at the pantry, Watson said that there will likely be an increased emphasis on the rules and regulations so that the organization's resources can reach out to as many eligible families as possible.

There has already been a reduction on keeping stores of milk and eggs in stock, she said, simply because the items don't have a very long shelf life compared to canned and dried foods.

"Fortunately, we have had community donations of milk, bread and country eggs to help out. We really appreciate the amount of support the local community provides," Watson said.

Pressures on food supplies will also affect the process for families to get turkeys to celebrate the holidays this year.

Last year, she said the food pantry received well over 400 names of people requesting turkeys for the holidays. The pantry ended up with about 50 turkeys that no one claimed.

"As you can imagine, turkeys don't come cheap over the holidays. Think about what the pantry could have done with the money rather than buy those extra birds," Watson said.

To deal with the strains on supplies and to keep from wasting money, the process for requesting holiday assistance will change and rules will be enforced.

"Families need to have been given assistance at the pantry through the year before they can put their family names in for turkeys," Watson said. There will also be a process in place so that every turkey ordered will be picked up.

"As volunteers managing a service that relies on local community support, the food pantry is accountable to our donors, ministers and God that we extend help to as many families as possible. We can't afford to waste our resources," Watson said.

The Pantry's resources will become more important to impoverished local families as more cuts occur. Harrison County people have always been good stewards to help other local families, she said.

"We'll stretch our budget as far as we can," Watson pledged.

not alone in this epidemic. Many Kentucky communities are wrestling with this same problem.

"Suicide is the second leading cause of death among teens in Kentucky," Omar said. "It is exceeded only by car accidents and homicide."

Suicide claims more teenage lives than heart disease, asthma, diabetes, or cancer combined. "Last year, in Kentucky, suicide claimed the lives of over 40 teens, compared to seven kids who passed away as a result of disease," Omar said. More alarming still, for every completed suicide, there are over a dozen or more that have been attempted, he said.

"The fact is that in the case of suicide, teens are dying as a result of something preventable," Omar said. One of the key factors in its prevention, Omar said, is for parents to understand how teens think.

"It is easy for parents to forget that teenagers do not think in the same way as adults. Teens are becoming adults, but they are still just a few years removed from childhood. They do not comprehend the long term consequences of their actions.

They don't understand the finality of suicide, that there is no coming back. They are only thinking about escaping from the moment," Omar explained.

The adolescent medicine center at the University of Kentucky has been working with teenagers for many years. It is a unique service at UK Healthcare and one that has developed an impressive track record of success in treating them.

As Omar explained, adolescent medical services do not generate much revenue in the healthcare industry. As a population, teenagers don't get sick very much, so the tendency is to lump them with children in a pediatrics practice.

It is in this area that the UK adolescent program sets itself apart, Sorrell said.

"Our offices are separate from the pediatrics department. Everything we do is geared toward the interests of teenagers," she said. "We make ourselves available to them when they need us. That can be by email, phone calls or texting as well as visiting the office."

"The adolescent medicine department performs a very important service," Omar added.

"Where most teen clinics get about 45 percent of their patients returning for follow up visits, we have 95 percent. I think it's because our staff shows kids that they truly care and want to help."

It is this level of expertise and knowledge that these physicians will be bringing to the community forum on that Monday evening.

The purpose of the forum is not to assign blame, Omar said. Pointing fingers accomplishes nothing. The forum will answer questions from students, parents, and leaders about steps that can be taken to prevent teens from following through on bad decisions they make.

"Some answers are just common sense things, like always keeping guns and hunting rifles unloaded and locked in a safe where they aren't easily accessible. Even a teen who has had proper gun safety training can make an unfortunate decision in a time of adolescent confusion," Omar said.

In teens, Omar explained, there are two types of suicides. There is the one that is similar to adults, where home life and school life are not going well and, combined with mental health problems that need an intervention, they spend a lot of time in contemplation of the act.

But among teen suicides, about 30-50 percent of those cases are what Omar terms "same-day suicides." In these cases, there are no mental health issues, no warning signs. Frequently they occur in teens who have never had a problem before. But circumstances occur that, because they have not developed the maturity and adult mindset to deal with sudden disappointments, the make the sudden decision to kill themselves. Sometimes, it is because of an emotional break up with a long term boyfriend or girlfriend, disappointment with grades that make them feel they won't make it to the school they want and it magnifies a fear of failure.

"One of the most common or immediate causes of these situations is a direct result of constant bullying," Omar said.

If teens go home alone with no one to talk with about their concerns, they can make the sudden conclusion that it would be better if they were dead. "If they find a convenient means to do it, an otherwise normal and grounded adolescent can wind up making a bad decision without really understanding its consequences. All they understand is an impulse to escape," Omar said.

The important thing to come out of such a public forum is to spark a community conversation on ways to reduce the risk factors associated with teen suicides. The answers are applicable to other issues affecting teens as well, such as drug and alcohol abuse.

But it takes a community acting as a family. Kids must feel that there is a caring adult or adults that they can turn to for support. Working parents cannot be there all the time, he said.

They need a safe place where they can interact with a trusted adult, and they need to give themselves something useful to do, he added.

"Understanding Teens" invites all community people, from parents, teachers, and counselors to business owners, members of law enforcement, community leaders, and church pastors to join the conversation at this forum.

"I will not be looking at my watch. This matter is too important. I will be happy to answer questions and share my insights for as long as it takes," Omar said.

lung cancer

protect yourself. know the facts.

What is lung cancer?

Lung cancer begins when cells that are not normal grow inside the lungs. The lungs are part of the respiratory system, which controls breathing. Kentucky has more lung cancer cases and lung cancer deaths than any other state.

What causes lung cancer?

Smoking (cigarettes, cigars, pipes) is by far the major risk factor. It causes almost 90 percent of all lung cancers. In addition, nonsmokers who are exposed to second-hand smoke (smoke from others) at home or at work increase their lung cancer risk by 20-30 percent.

Radon (a gas you cannot see or smell) also can cause lung cancer. Radon comes from rocks and soil. It can be found in places with poor ventilation, such as mines, and in some homes. In the home, radon levels are highest in the basement because it is the closest room to the soil.

Other lung cancer risk factors include air pollution, a personal or family history of the disease, and exposure to asbestos, arsenic, chromium, nickel, tar and other substances found in workplaces.

What are the symptoms of lung cancer?

Early lung cancer often does not cause any symptoms. For this reason, doing all you can to prevent the disease is important. However, symptoms may appear after lung cancer develops and grows. These include a cough that does not go away, trouble with breathing, chest pain, coughing up blood, a hoarse voice, lung infections that keep coming back, and loss of appetite. These problems can be caused by other health problems. People with any of these symptoms should see their doctor.

What are screening tests?

Screening tests help doctors find many cancers early, when they are easiest to treat. However, experts have not recommended for or against lung cancer screening tests. Researchers are currently testing several lung cancer screening tests. These include chest x-rays, sputum cytology (looking for cancer cells in phlegm under a microscope), and CAT scans (combining several x-rays to show the inside of the body from different angles).

Am I a candidate for lung cancer screening?

If you are:

- a current or former smoker
- and in the age group from 55 to 74 years
- and with a smoking history of at least 30 pack-years (this means 1 pack a day for 30 years, 2 packs a day for 15 years, etc.)

...then you are in the group at highest risk for lung cancer and screening for lung cancer is recommended for you. The risk for lung cancer is different for each person. Even if you are not in this group you should talk with your doctor about your own lung cancer risk factors and the possible benefits and harms of being screened.

How can I reduce my chance of getting lung cancer?

- Stop smoking. This is the most important thing you can do, no matter how old you are or how much you smoke. Help is available through smoking cessation classes, and you may also call Kentucky's Tobacco Quit Line, 1-800-QUIT NOW for one-on-one counseling.
- Avoid being around secondhand smoke (the smoke from other people's cigarettes, cigars and pipes).
- Have your home tested for radon. Call your local health department for more information and a free radon test kit.

Are chewing tobacco and snuff safe substitutes for cigarettes?

NO. These forms of smokeless tobacco do not cause lung cancer, but they are linked to cancers of the lip, tongue, cheeks, gums, mouth and pancreas.

Where can I get more information?

For information on all types of cancer, call the National Cancer Institute's Cancer Information Service at 1-800-4-CANCER or go to www.cancer.gov. Or call the American Cancer Society toll-free at 1-800-ACS-2345 or visit its website at www.cancer.org.

LVS weekend event features songs from the Silver Screen

By JOSH SHEPHERD, News Writer

For their ninth musical extravaganza at the Cynthiana Baptist Church, the Licking Valley Singers are ready for their close-ups, Mr. De Mille.

The community singing group will present “Songs of the Silver Screen,” a tribute to the movies featuring some of the most famous tunes to come out of Hollywood in the past century.

Karen Bear and Dr. Beth Laytart have come together once again to give audiences an entertaining evening of song on Friday, Nov. 8, at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, Nov. 10, at 2:30 p.m.

Tickets are $10 at the door. Biancke’s is offering advance tickets for only $8 apiece.

Following the Singers’ popular review of Broadway showtunes last spring, Bear and Laytart decided they should give equal time to songs made famous in the movie house.

“We usually don’t have a specific theme. Most of our shows are a musical kaleidoscope, but our Broadway theme was so popular with our audience, it was natural to have this movie showcase follow it,” Bear said.

The song list covers a wide range of styles, Bear said. Some selections will come from Hollywood’s golden age with well known numbers from “Singin’ in the Rain,” “Gentlemen Prefer Blondes” and “The Wizard of Oz,” but audiences can expect some interesting twists as well, she said.

Among those twists is a medley of James Bond songs, including such favorites as “Goldfinger,” “Live and Let Die” and “Nobody Does it Better” from The Spy Who Loved Me.

One of the more challenging pieces in the choir’s arsenal will be a vocal treatment of Henry Mancini’s famous theme from “The Pink Panther” that will have to be seen to be believed, Bear said.

“You can’t have a tribute to Hollywood without featuring some songs that don’t have any lyrics, but the tunes themselves are famous,” Bear said.

Continuing along that line, Laytart and guest pianist Bill Probus will perform a tribute to John Williams, one of Hollywood’s most prolific and celebrated composers.

The 51-member choir for “Songs of the Silver Screen” is the largest yet for a Licking Valley Singers presentation, Laytart said. In addition to the central performance, audience members arriving early will get a special treat.

Bear will be the opening act for the evening’s spectacle, so be sure to get to the Baptist Church early for the performance.

What lies ahead for Licking Valley Singers

The Licking Valley Singers have been invited to participate with the Georgetown Community Choir for a special holiday performance on Tuesday, Dec. 3.

The invitation marks the first time that the Licking Valley Singers have received such an invitation from another community choir, Bear said.

“I hope we can depend on our growing fan base to follow us to Scott County for this show,” she said.

In the spring, the Licking Valley Singers 10th performance will feature favorite songs from the past nine performances.

“It will be a Licking Valley Singers greatest hits show,” Bear said. “Invitations are going out for choir members to participate. There are no auditions. We welcome anyone curious about joining the choir to perform. It’s always a fun time,” she said.

Three accidents reported on Bypass

By JOSH SHEPHERD, News Writer

Within the first four days of the Cynthiana Bypass opening, Harrison County Sheriff’s deputies responded to three car wrecks on the roadway. Two, including one injury accident, occurred at the intersection of Bypass Road and White Oak Pike near Westside Elementary school.

The injury accident on Sunday, Nov. 3, at about 2 p.m., occurred when Margaret Wood, 52, entered the intersection from White Oak. According to the report from Dep. Robert Peak, Wood came to a halt at the stop sign, then drove on into the intersection in front of an oncoming car driven by Michael Puckett.

According to the report, Wood assumed that the intersection was a four-way stop. However, according to Peak’s report, there is a sign on top of the stop sign which indicates that Bypass drivers have the right of way and do not stop.

The drivers were transported to Harrison Memorial Hospital for treatment of their injuries.

On Saturday, Nov. 2, at the same intersection, Deputy Chris Shields reported that a vehicle driven by James Bishop, 47, drove straight by the White Oak Pike stop sign and into the intersection.

Bishop collided with the back end of a car driven by Chris Collins, 38, of Independence, who was traveling on the Bypass.

There were no injuries associated with this accident.

Despite the presence of rumble strips at the intersection of White Oak and the Bypass, officers said that some drivers are having difficulty changing old habits. But it is important to remind people that there are no stop signs for drivers on the Bypass.

“They have the right-of-way on that stretch of road,” Peak said. The roundabout is also an apparent source of confusion, though perhaps not nearly as bad as anticipated early on.

There was, however, a non-injury fender bender in the roundabout on Nov. 1 at about 6:30 a.m.

According to the report from Dep. Dean Hutchison, Billy

McCord’s truck, pulling a bass boat, was in the roundabout when a car entered the roundabout ahead of him without yielding.

McCord slammed on his brakes to avoid a front-end collision. However, Tim Muntz, driving behind McCord, could not stop in time to keep from hitting the boat transom, Hutchison reported.

According to the sheriff’s department, responsibility for accidents along the Bypass will fall to the department’s deputies. When the city of Cynthiana annexes the Bypass into the city limits, which is anticipated to happen soon, the primary responders for accident calls will transfer to the Cynthiana police and fire departments.

Grand jury issues two indictments Tuesday

By BECKY BARNES, Editor

Two men were indicted by the new Harrison County grand jury on Tuesday.

Jeffrey Streitenberger, 38, was indicted on a charge of first degree trafficking in a controlled substance (heroin, methamphetamine, morphine) first offense.

According to the grand jury indictment, Streitenberger possessed a controlled substance mixture of heroin, meth and morphine, and had intent to transfer the substance to another person.

Cynthiana Ptl. Jeff Thomas is the investigating officer.

Streitenberger’s bond was set at $5,000.

The grand jury also indicted Francisco Bravo, 26, on charges on alcohol intoxication in a public place and second degree wanton endangerment.

According to the indictment, on Sept. 7, Bravo is accused of being manifestly under the influence of alcohol and that he may have endangered himself or other persons, property or unreasonably annoyed persons in his vicinity.

He is also accused of conduct that created substantial danger to others.

The grand jury also issued a no true bill on a receiving stolen property (firearm) charge that was made against Bravo.

No true bill means that the charge is dismissed without prejudice.

Donlon changes plea in sex-related case

By BECKY BARNES, Editor

The Harrison County man who was arrested last spring from a Harrison County nursing facility on sex-related charges has entered guilty pleas to five counts of possession of matter portraying sexual performance by a minor.

Thomas A. Donlon, 70, was arrested May 2 following an investigation by the Kentucky State Police and Lexington Metro Police Department.

Donlon lived in Lexington and when he left his residence there to move to Cynthiana, he left behind pictures that ultimately landed in the hands of Lexington police.

Working with Lexington Metro, KSP charged Donlon with the felony possession of the lewd photographs.

Formal sentencing will be held Jan. 7 following a pre-sentencing investigation and evaluation.

Underwood is the son of Rusty and Pam Hill of Waddy, Ky. and Glenn Underwood of Lawrenceburg.

MUSEUM MUSINGS

 As we consider Veterans Day, this is yet another ideal time to visit the Cynthiana-Harrison County Museum. Veteran's Day, a most significant day in America to honor and thank those men and women who have defended, sacrificed, and served through the years as well as those who continue to do so.*

 Veterans Day, a federal holiday, is celebrated on Nov. 11, the anniversary of the signing of the Armistice that ended World War I. In 1954, President Eisenhower proclaimed the day to honor American veterans of all wars.*

 Several displays at the museum (South Walnut Street, the old Rohs Theatre building) are dedicated to the military. A visit to the museum is an excellent way to gain more respect and understanding of all that has been given so that we might have freedom. Bring the young people with you to the museum.*

 In one portion of the museum's military section are two large notebooks filled with stories and photographs of Harrison County veterans. These amazing, heartwarming accounts will make you express gratitude. Do you know someone or do you yourself have a veteran's story or photograph which should be included?*

 Unknown author - "I thought how many men like him had fallen through the years? How many died on foreign soil? How many mother's tears? How many pilots' planes shot down? How many died at sea? How many foxholes were soldiers' graves? No, freedom isn't free."*

The Cynthiana-Harrison County Museum is open on Fridays and Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. because of faithful volunteers. We encourage you and yours to visit, to learn, to appreciate, to enjoy.

Living News due within 6 months after event

The Cynthiana Democrat is pleased to assist newlyweds, new parents or those celebrating anniversaries on the Living Page and are published at no cost, however, these articles must be submitted for publishing within 6 months of the event. Articles which do not meet the deadlines will be referred to the advertising department. We do accept photos. We reserve the right to edit all copy for style and brevity. Collection site opens for global Christmas project

Cynthiana residents packing joy into shoeboxes for needy children

With holiday supplies already covering the store shelves, Cynthiana individuals, families, churches and groups are working to make Christmas a reality for needy kids around the world by filling shoeboxes with toys, school supplies, hygiene items and notes of encouragement. Operation Christmas Child, the world's largest Christmas project of its kind, is ramping up as Cynthiana residents prepare to collect more than 3,100 gift-filled shoeboxes during National Collection Week (Nov. 18-25).

At a local collection site in the Cynthiana area, anyone can drop off a gift-filled shoebox to send to a child overseas. The shoebox gifts will be delivered to children worldwide. For many children, the shoebox gift will be the first gift they have ever received.

Cynthiana's collection site will be at the First Church of God, 401 N. Main St. Operating hours are: Monday, Nov. 18 through Friday, Nov. 22, from 6-8 p.m.; Saturday, Nov. 23 from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.; Sunday, Nov. 24 from 1:30-5:30 p.m.; and Monday, Nov. 25 from 9-11 a.m.

For more information regarding the collection locations, call 1-800-567-8580.

Though the shoebox gifts will often travel thousands of miles, Operation Christmas Child offers a way for participants to follow their box by using the donation form found at samaritanspurse.org. Donors will receive an email telling the country where their shoeboxes are delivered.

For more information on how to participate in Operation Christmas Child call 615-778-0046 or visit samaritanspurse.org. Shoebox gifts are collected all year at the Samaritan's Purse headquarters in Boone, N.C. Participants can also build a box through an online tool offering a personalized and convenient way to send a gift to a child in one of the hardest-to-reach countries.

MEMBERS OF THE HARRISON COUNTY SPEECH TEAM

HCHS speech team competes in two tournaments

Brings home two 4th places with only six members participating

The Harrison County High School speech team competed in the Murray/LaRue Swing Tournament on Nov. 3.

The students actually compete in two tournaments at one time. Some students performed 16 times in one day.

The team received a fourth place at Murray and a fourth place at LaRue out of 20 teams.

"This is remarkable as only six members of the team were able to compete on Saturday," said Laura Sanders, speech coach.

The following won their events:

LaRue Tournament - Jacob Sanders in Poetry, Jared Thomas in Extemporaneous Speaking.

Murray Tournament: Lauren Shepard in Broadcasting, Jared Thomas in Impromptu Speaking, and Jacob Sanders in Oratory.

The following placed in the top six in their events:

MCTC hosting Instant Admissions Day on Nov. 22

"If you have been thinking about starting or returning to college, you can take part in Instant Admissions Day and be ready to start classes in January with one just one visit to our college," said Dr. Ed Story, MCTC President.

Instant Admissions Day is a new program to help students enroll in classes fast by completing the Compass test, transcript evaluation, advising, registration and the financial aid application in just one visit to the nearest MCTC campus.

Prospective students are encouraged to complete the MCTC Admissions Application prior to Nov. 22 and then call 859-234-8626 ext. 66405 to reserve a spot.

"It is important for prospective students to complete the Admissions Application before Instant Admissions Day so that when they call to reserve their spot, we can let them what they need to bring that day," said Lori Gaunce, MCTC registrar.

Spring 2014 classes start on Monday, Jan. 13, at MCTC. To complete the admissions application visit www.maysville.kctcs.edu and click on Apply Now.

For more information, contact Gaunce at 859-234-8626 ext. 66405.

Harrison County native participates in Kentucky Book Fair

Nick and Viola: A Kentucky Family Tragedy in the Tobacco Wars (1904-1911), has been selected for sale at the Kentucky Book Fair in Frankfort, KY on Nov. 16, 2013.

The Book Fair is Kentucky's premier literary event and one of the largest of its kind in the nation.

Sponsored by The State Journal, Frankfort's daily newspaper, and co-sponsored by the Kentucky Department for Libraries and Archives and the University Press of Kentucky, the Book Fair will be held Saturday, Nov. 16, from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the Frankfort Convention Center in downtown Frankfort.

About 200 authors will attend the Book Fair to autograph copies of their books, usually published within the 12 months preceding the November Book Fair date. The Book Fair generally attracts 4,000-5,000 visitors and raises about $120,000 annually for school and public libraries in Kentucky.

Nick and Viola is a family story about a neglected period of Kentucky history and traces the impact of the tobacco wars on three generations of the Muntz family.

The story, lost for two generations, recreates a family's experience before tobacco farmers had any safety net; when monopolies controlled the price of tobacco.

In 1904 the American Tobacco Company (ATC) dropped prices for tobacco below the cost of production. Populist groups formed to "pool" or hold tobacco off the market to force higher prices.

Because pooling was voluntary, tensions arose between neighbors who pooled and those who didn't.

Vigilante groups, known as "Night Riders," attacked barns and crops, and sometimes beat and killed those who refused to join the pool.

Nick and Viola and their relatives did not join the pool and suffered the consequences.

A barn full of tobacco burned, a gunshot killed an innocent man, and a family fell apart.

In researching the book, Derr realized the story was more than a family history. "I found that the world of tobacco was a major theme in the book. All the rituals of tobacco—planting, tilling, housing, selling—were essential to the story of my family over three generations."

The economic and political pressures of the time were also key to the story.

"I knew nothing about the tobacco wars when I was growing up in the 1950s and 1960s," Derr said. "I heard stories about night riders, but never knew why they existed. Writing the book was like piecing together the puzzle of my childhood world. I began to understand the forces that created the world in which I grew up."

MAY WE TAKE YOUR ORDER — Kattlemen's Kreek managers Danielle Wyrick and Meagan King are glad to be finished with the repair process at Kattlemen's Kreek restaurant and are anxious to see the place fill with customers. The process to recover from the fire took a little longer than anticipate, but it allowed the restaurant to add some needed upgrades to the aging building.

Kattlemen's Kreek reopens

By JOSH SHEPHERD, NEWS WRITER

Almost two months after an early morning electrical fire forced its closure, Kattlemen's Kreek restaurant officially re-opened Sunday, Nov. 3.

The process took several weeks longer than anticipated, owner Mary McKinley said, but she used that additional time to install a new HVAC system and a new roof.

"These were projects that I wanted to do while the restaurant was operating. But since we were doing these other repairs, it was the perfect time to knock those out," McKinley said.

The fire that broke out last August could have been a catastrophe for the new restaurant, which had only started operations last spring. Fortune played a hand in the event when the fire melted water hoses serving the restaurant's drink service and the spray of water kept the flames contained to the kitchen.

It was never in doubt that the owners would re-open, McKinley said. However the actual repair process was delayed by several weeks because of paper details and the work of insurance company adjusters, McKinley said.

Once those details were settled, the actual repair process took only about two weeks, she said.

"We tried to hold on to our employees, but some just couldn't wait. About half returned to us, so we are now hiring and we're anxious to start moving forward again,"

McKinley said.

At noon on Monday, a modest lunch crowd came trickling in. People were sticking their heads in the door asking if Kattlemen's Kreek was back open?

Managers Danielle Wyrick and Meagan King were both glad to say that it was.

About the author

The author, Laura Muntz Derr, grew up in Harrison County and graduated from Harrison County High School in 1964. She is also an alumna of the University of Kentucky (BA in English, 1968; MA in English, 1970).

Today Derr is a retired teaching and marketing professional living in East Tennessee. She taught college English for 15 years in Virginia, Texas and Iowa. While raising a family in Cedar Rapids, she and her husband owned and operated a marketing business for 17 years.

Nick and Viola supports Harrison County Heritage Council

Laura Muntz Derr read from her book and spoke at the Aug. 15, meeting of the Harrison County Historical Society.

After the talk she donated 50 copies of the book to Marilynn Bell of the Harrison County Heritage Council, to be sold as a fundraiser to preserve the Handy House in Harrison County. The book sales raised nearly $500 for the preservation project.

Nick and Viola selected for Talking Books

Nick and Viola has been selected to be recorded for "Talking Books."

The Kentucky Talking Book Library (KTBL), a service of Kentucky Department for Libraries and Archives, provides free library service to people who cannot read traditional print because they have a visual, physical or reading disability. Nick and Viola will become available soon as part of the 2013 catalogue.

The Westside Elementary School HALLOWEEN BOOK CHARACTER COSTUME PAGEANT

Fourth graders showed a wide variety of influences, from recent classics to time-tested treasures. Trenton Bedford (Harry Potter), Trinity Taylor (Katniss Everdeen), Katlyn Fitzpatrick (Alice), and Alexis Wright (Mad Hatter)

No, you are not counting wrong. Those are the Five Little Monkeys AND their momma up on stage. They are portrayed by Jadyn Shaw, Madison Delong, Molly Perkins, Kacey Brierley, Hannah Delong and Sadie Perkins.

CHARACTERS FROM LITERATURE BROUGHT TO LIFE AT WESTSIDE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

There were dozens upon dozens of book characters that the Westside students put on display at the elementary school on Halloween Day. Some of the characters were immediately recognizable and some had even the teachers asking who their characters were.

Houston Wiggins as Greg from Diary of a Wimpy Kid drew a lot of attention. So did Isaac Blackburn as a big skeleton, Kenzie Alas as Beck from Tinkerbell, Mary Campbell Canupp as Apple Jack and Baylee Hudgins as Aqua Butterfly ABOVE: Second graders Hannah Mitts as Grinch the Witch and Kaitlin Lewis going old school Hanna-Barbera in her Pebbles Flintstone costume.

LEFT: Many teachers also dressed up for the character contest. Many people will recognize the famous characters from the Wizard of Oz. Laura Winkle is a wonderful Dorothy, but Scott Fields earns major kudos as The Yellow Brick Road.

In the Westside front office, even staff caught literary costume fever. Featured are Addyson Teegarden, Candida Lewis, and Terri Yearsley as The Bee Movie bee, Minnie Mouse (love the yellow shoes), and the Queen of Hearts from Alice in Wonderland

The creativity displayed in the costumes at Westside Elementary was eye-popping. Kindergarten student Debbi Webb shows off her Wall-E costume, complete with the Pixar robot's telescoping head and box-like body.

Disney-themed costumes were popular among the Westside Elementary kids. Cecilia Boland is very proud of her Belle costume based on the classic novel, and popular Disney adaptation, of Beauty and the Beast.

Breds swat Yellowjackets in Versailles Friday night

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

The Harrison County football Thorobreds closed out the regular season Friday night as they defeated the Woodford County Yellowjackets 41-34 in a game of momentum changes.

The win improves Harrison County to 3-7 while the 5A Woodford County squad drops to 1-9 losing their fifth straight game.

The Thorobreds surrendered the game's first points when Woodford County took the opening kick and marched down the field on a nine-play 80-yard drive for the touchdown.

Kainan Hudson carried the ball in from one yard out for the score.

The point-after was missed giving Woodford County the 6-0 lead. Not to be outdone the Thorobreds took the ensuing kick off and ran the ball down the field for a score on a three-yard Zach Mastin touchdown run.

This drive featured seven running plays, the longest a key third-down run by Jovon Williams, for a 34-yard gain. Taylor Bolin's point-after was good and the Breds had a lead that they would never surrender 7-6.

The first quarter ended 7-6 but it didn't take long for the Thorobreds to score in the second stanza.

After a fumble by Woodford County on their own 28-yard line the Harrison County offense took only four plays to make the score 13-6 as quarterback Robbie Stroub carried around end on a 13-yard touchdown run.

Bolin's point-after was missed, however, for the 13-6 score.

Woodford County was three and out on the next series giving up the ball on a punt to the Harrison County 40-yard line.

On the first play from scrimmage, Justin Hunter sprinted 60 yards for the score and Stroub's run for the two-point conversion made the score 21-6 in favor of the visitors from Harrison County with seven minutes still to play in the first half.

Woodford County mounted a drive on its next possession grounding out a seven-play drive but they gave the ball up on downs at their own 48-yard line with four minutes left in the half.

Five plays later, the Thorobreds were again standing in the end zone as Stroub hit Hunter with a 30-yard pass for a score.

Bolin's kick was good and the halftime score was 28-6 with everything looking good for Harrison County.

Beginning the second half, Harrison County recovered what was to be the first of four onside kicks from the Yellowjackets on the Breds 47-yard line.

Harrison County took the ball down as far as the 16 before the Breds settled for a 34-yard field goal attempt which Bolin missed.

This seemed to turn the momentum of the game as the Woodford County team was inspired, it appeared, as they drove down the field to the Thorobreds' seven-yard line before Williams intercepted a Trey Thurman pass in the end zone for a touch back.

The relief was short lived, however, as on the second play in the Harrison County series, Stroub suffered a vicious hit as he was running along the sideline causing a fumble that Woodford County recovered.

The ball was spotted on the Thorobreds' 39-yard line and shortly after Thurman ran the ball into the end zone from 15 yards out for a score.

The point after by senior kicker Zack Korby was good reducing the Harrison County advantage to 28-13.

Again Woodford County attempted an onside kick this time the ball bounced off a Harrison County player and the Yellowjackets recovered on the Harrison County 48-yard line.

Carr qualifies for state cross country meet with performance Saturday

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

Senior Grant Carr, despite battling an injury, finished 18th in the Class AA, Region 4 Cross Country Meet Saturday to qualify for this Saturday's state meet.

Carr was the top qualifier for the boys' and girls' teams as he covered the 5000M distance in 18:14, which is about one minute slower than last year's time.

This year Carr added football to soccer and cross country for the fall season and has not been able to work on his running like he may have been able to before.

Coach Danny Simpson considered the fact that he qualified for state "impressive." The state meet race for the 2A boys will begin at 11:30 a.m. Saturday at the Kentucky Horse Park. Admission is $10.

The girls' team had a setback in their attempt to qualify as the Fillies' number one runner, Rachel Eckert, was forced to stop running during the race due to a sore knee.

The Fillies finished seventh of the nine teams with Highlands winning the team honors. Reinhart of Lexington Catholic was the individual winner. Caylin Mattox was the top finisher for Harrison County as she completed her senior year with a 33rd place finish.

Abby Cooper was next with a 36th place finish followed by Kayla Joy (37th), Tamara Lunsford (45th) and Chelsea Bowman (47th). Joy capped off her senior year with a personal best time of 26:52.

The Thorobreds were sixth in the 10-team boys' field. Covington Catholic was the team winner edging Highlands by one point.

Shuley of Highlands was the individual winner. The Thorobreds were led by Carr followed by Ross Smith who was 30th. The remainder of the Harrison County runners were Shane Palmer (38th), Harry Smith (44th), Ben Bradford (51st), Jacob Brueggen (56th) and Isaiah Brueggen (59th).

"I am very proud of this team," noted Simpson. "They battled hard against a difficult schedule and in the extremes of weather. I am particularly proud of our seniors: Caylin Mattox, Kayla Joy, Erin Bradford, Grant Carr, Nathan Radford and Harry Smith. They have been a super group of young people and have been great leaders."

Fillies lose in semis to Campbell Co.

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

The Harrison County volleyball Fillies went down to defeat in the 10th Region semifinals to eventual champion Campbell County in three sets Wednesday in Montgomery County.

Campbell County defeated Scott High in the championship in five sets, 19-25, 23-25, 25-14, 25-17 and 15-13.

The Fillies ended their season with a 28-10 record while the Lady Camels advanced to the state finals with a 22-14 mark.

Harrison County dropped the first set 25-12 before regaining momentum to battle the Lady Camels close in the second set.

In fact, the Fillies led the majority of the second set before losing 26-24.

The third set saw the Fillies jump out to a 4-0 advantage but Campbell County wore them down for a 25-12 win and the match victory.

Coach Bill Faulkner played his entire roster in the third set to gain experience for all of the Fillies.

"We played well tonight except for some lapses in ball handling," said Faulkner. "Our mistakes just came at critical times in the matches."

The Harrison County team loses six seniors all who played and four that started.

"We will miss the leadership that the seniors provided," noted Faulkner. "They have been dedicated to their team and their teammates working to improve each match."

The seniors are Samantha Adkins, Jordan Doram, Lexus

Doyle, Mallory Hunter, Lauren Shepard and Sarah Tanner. Adkins, Doram, Hunter, and Tanner were starters during the season.

Doyle's playing time was curtailed due to illness during the year. Adkins has agreed to play volleyball next year at Kentucky Christian University while Doram is weighing her options as to whether to play basketball, volleyball or both and where she may attend school.

The All District Tournament for the 38th District was named with Fillies Samantha Adkins, Jordan Doram and Sydney Motell each being named to the squad. Doram was the tournament Most Valuable Player. Adkins and Doram were named to the All 10th Region Tournament team.

MIKE'S MINUTE

The travesty of football officiating

I may have referred to this before and if I have, I apologize, but I feel that it bears repeating even if I have already mentioned.

We learned Friday that Joseph Ammerman will referee one of the six state championship games this year in Bowling Green.

This is a great honor for Joseph, well deserved and appropriate. It makes me particularly happy because it gives me a reason that Patti will buy into for me to go to the Bowling Green plus the other playoff games in case Harrison County loses Friday night.

On these occasions there is much good football to be seen and great camaraderie among the officials that are officiating the game and those of us who wish we were.

This is not the travesty of officiating mentioned in the headline.

Some of you know how many football officials there have been in Cynthiana over the years. Though I will forget some I will mention the ones that I know beginning with the ones that I did not have a chance to call games with like Darl Feix, Earl Chasteen and Richard Gibson along with the several that I have called contests with such as Garland Farmer, Larry Willis, Chris Turley, Steve "Moose" Morris, Ernie Barnes, Bob Ammerman, Joseph Ammerman, and the guy who got many of us involved, John Swinford.

I know that three of us called state championship games Bob, Joseph and I, and that one other of us (Ernie)

Mike Aldridge
Sports Writer

should have done one because someone else got his game in a case of mistaken identity and I believe that each of us deserved the chance.

In addition to the three of us in football there have been six officials in basketball and one in softball who have called the state championship tournament. Jerry Jenkins, Doug Hampton, Rick Chasteen, Brent Hampton, Terry Smith and Bart Lenox have all been on the floor for the Sweet Sixteen and Steve Chasteen has called the softball tournament in Owensboro.

All of the men mentioned are well deserving of the honor and several of them have been in the state championship tournament in their sport more than one time.

Now here is the travesty. The person who is recognized by most of his fellow football officials and many other football people around the area as the person who started us all, John Swinford, never got to call a state championship game.

Some of the others who have been out of the officiating game for a while didn't get to do one because there were only three classes for a while so there weren't as many opportunities, there were only four-man crews for a time and there was a time when the whole crew was assigned so if there was an inexperienced man on the crew none of the crew would be assigned.

But John was involved way past

Buchanan-Maxberry galloped 53 yards for a score and what was a comfortable lead was in jeopardy. Korb's kick was good and the score stood at 28-20 with less than one minute to play in the third period.

Harrison County rallied to score on the next possession. Again Woodford County tried the inside kick but Harrison County recovered this time on their own 49-yard line.

Five plays later, Hunter took the ball off tackle for a 27-yard scamper putting his Breds back on top by two scores 34-20.

Woodford County fumbled on their next possession as Hunter really hit Buchanan-Maxberry and sophomore Colin Coy picked the ball out of the air and ran it down to the Woodford County six-yard line.

The Thorobreds backed up with a holding penalty to the 23 before Stroub hit Hunter with a 23-yard touchdown pass on an outstanding throw and a great over the shoulder catch.

Bolin's kick made it 41-20 and the Breds withstood another bout of poor tackling to hold on for the 41-34 win.

Hunter was the offensive gem of the night for Harrison County gaining 53 yards through the air and rushing 16 times for 133 yards.

He scored four touchdowns and had the big fumble causing hit in the fourth period. Stroub ran for one touchdown and threw for two more in a steady performance.

Woodford County rushed for 314 yards in a losing effort as they outgained the Thorobreds 409 to 385 in total yards.

Harrison County's defense was again suspect at best with many missed tackles and faulty alignments.

The Thorobreds will begin playoff action this Friday as they travel to Paintsville to play the 10-0 Johnson Central Golden Eagles.

Johnson Central is thought to have one of its best teams if not the very best teams that it has put out on the gridiron.

these times and while good enough to do college ball in the Gateway Conference, the Mid South Conference, the Missouri Valley Conference along with others, he was never chosen to do the Kentucky State High School Championship.

Folks, to you I say, "This is ridiculous."

I hope that the people who were in charge back in those days can look themselves in the mirror and like what they see.

I don't know how they can but so be it. I have already complained more about this than John Swinford ever did or ever would because he wasn't that kind of guy. But until I take my last breath I will know that he was never given an opportunity that he earned and by no fault of his own.

ADAM H. EDELEN
AUDITOR OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

To the People of Kentucky
Honorable Steven L. Beshear, Governor
Lori H. Flanery, Secretary
Finance and Administration Cabinet
Honorable Alex Barnett, Harrison County Judge/Executive
Honorable Bruce Hampton, Harrison County Sheriff
Members of the Harrison County Fiscal Court

Independent Auditor's Report

Report on the Financial Statement
We have audited the Harrison County Sheriff's Settlement - 2012 Taxes for the period April 17, 2012 through April 15, 2013 - regulatory basis, and the related notes to the financial statement.
Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statement
Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statement in accordance with accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the laws of Kentucky to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky's regulatory basis of accounting as described in Note 1. Management is also responsible for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statement that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.
Auditor's Responsibility
Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statement based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Governmental Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, and the Audit Guide for Sheriff's Tax Settlements issued by the Auditor of Public Accounts, Commonwealth of Kentucky. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free from material misstatement. An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statement, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statement in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statement. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinions.
Basis for Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles
As described in Note 1 of the financial statement, the financial statement is prepared by the County Sheriff on the basis of the accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the laws of Kentucky to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky's regulatory basis of accounting, which is a basis of accounting other than accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.
The effects on the financial statement of the variances between the regulatory basis of accounting described in Note 1 and accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, although not reasonably determinable, are presumed to be material.
Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles
In our opinion, because of the significance of the matter discussed in the Basis for Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles paragraph, the financial statement referred to above does not present fairly, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, the financial position of each fund of the County Sheriff, as of April 15, 2013, or changes in financial position or cash flows thereof for the year then ended.
Opinion on Regulatory Basis of Accounting
In our opinion, the financial statement referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the taxes charged, credited, and paid for the period April 17, 2012 through April 15, 2013 of the Harrison County Sheriff, in accordance with the basis of accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Commonwealth of Kentucky as described in Note 1.
Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards
In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated July 26, 2013 on our consideration of the Harrison County Sheriff's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts and grant agreements, and other matters. The purpose of that report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the Harrison County Sheriff's internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. This report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the entity's internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

Respectfully submitted,

Adam H. Edelen
Auditor of Public Accounts

July 26, 2013

State law requires the Auditor of Public Accounts to annually audit fiscal courts, county clerks, and sheriffs; and print the results in a newspaper having general circulation in the county. The complete audit and any other audit of state agencies, fiscal courts, county clerks, sheriffs, and property valuation administrators may be viewed in the reports section of the Auditor of Public Accounts' website at www.auditor.ky.gov or upon request by calling 1-800-247-9126.

Elam, PLS #2423, dated May 10, 2004. See plat recorded in Plat Cabinet 4, Sheet 594B.
Being part of the same property conveyed to Roe Conner, Jr. and Loretta Conner by deed dated May 4, 1983 and recorded in Deed Book 164, Page 35 of the Harrison County Records in Cynthiana, Kentucky.

The property is being sold to produce a sum sufficient to satisfy the judgments and liens as follows: (a) The costs of this action, including the Master Commissioner's fee, appraiser's fee and advertising costs; and (b) Judgment for the Plaintiff, Kentucky Tax Bill Servicing, Inc., in the amount of $3,851.08 together with interest at the statutory rate of 12% from October 1, 2013 until paid, plus any additional costs expended by Plaintiff to protect or preserve the property until sale date. (c) Real Estate taxes, plus interest and penalties, if any, for taxes assessed for the year 2012 and previous years. (d) Plaintiff's

Court costs and attorney fees.

The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions: (1) The property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of the parties to this action; (2) The purchaser shall be required to pay the sum of 10% of the purchase price in cash, certified funds or by other immediately verifiable collectible medium of exchange acceptable to the Commissioner, on the day of sale to apply on the purchase price; (3) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable within thirty (30) days after the day of sale; (4) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond with good and sufficient surety thereon as approved by the Commissioner to secure the unpaid portion of the purchase price, the bond to bear interest at the rate of 12% per annum from the day of sale until paid, the bond to have the same force and effect as a judgment and shall remain a lien on the property as additional security until the purchase price is paid in full; (5) In the event that the Plaintiff is the successful purchaser, it shall be entitled to a credit on its judgment against the purchase price and shall only be obligated to pay court costs, the fees and costs of the Master Commissioner, and any real estate taxes payable pursuant to this order, and in that event, no bond shall be required; (6) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying the bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal together with all accrued interest thereon until the date of payment; (7) The purchaser shall obtain possession of the property upon confirmation of the sale by the Court and payment of the purchase price in full; (8) All ad valorem taxes on the property for calendar year 2013 and all subsequent years shall be assumed and paid by the purchaser. All real property taxes due and owing to Harrison County or the City of Cynthiana for 2012 and prior years will be paid from the proceeds of sale. (9) The property shall be sold subject to any assessment for public improvements levied against the property and subject to all rules and regulations enforced by the Cynthiana-Harrison County-Berry Joint Planning and Zoning Commission, all applicable health and safety regulations, all restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Harrison County Court Clerk's Office, governmental laws and regulations affecting the property, and shall be subject to any unrecorded easements, discrepancies or conflicts in boundary lines, shortage in area and encroachments, if any there be, which an accurate and complete survey or an inspection of the property would disclose; (10) The purchaser shall bear the risk of loss on the improvements on the property and the risk of loss shall pass to the purchaser as of the day and time of sale; (11) The property shall be sold with any improvements thereon "as is"; and (12) The property shall be sold subject to such right of redemption as may exist in favor of the United States of America pursuant to 28 USC Section 2410, and the right of redemption of the Defendants.

All bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Pursuant to a Judgment and Order of Sale entered by the Harrison Circuit Court on September 18, 2013 in Civil Action No. 13-CI-00125 styled Kentucky Housing Corporation, Plaintiff, vs. Joseph C. Lane, Rhonda Renee Eggleston Lane and Harrison County, Kentucky, Defendants, the Master Commissioner of the Harrison Circuit Court will sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder at the front door of the Harrison County Courthouse, in Cynthiana, Kentucky, on Friday, November 22, 2013 at 10:00 a.m., the following described property:

Property Address: 2876 Kentucky Highway 1032 East, Berry, Kentucky (Mobile Home)
Being all of Tract 1A (containing 5.1075 Acres), of the Arthur D. Rawlins and Rachel E. Rawlins Property, as shown by plat of record in Plat Cabinet 4, Slide 569B in the Harrison County Clerk's Office; designated 2876 KY HWY 1032 E, Berry, Kentucky. Being the same property acquired by Joseph C. Lane, a single person, by deed dated June 17, 2010, of record in Deed Book 313, Page 176, in the Office of the Clerk aforesaid.

The property is being sold to produce a sum sufficient to satisfy the judgments and liens as follows: (a) The costs of this action, including the Master Commissioner's fee, appraiser's fee and advertising costs; and (b) Judgment for the Plaintiff, Kentucky Housing Corporation, in the amount of $136,050.13 plus interest at the rate of 5.875% from December 1, 2012 until paid, plus late fees and any additional costs expended by Plaintiff to protect or preserve the property until sale date. (c) Real Estate taxes, plus interest and penalties, if any, for taxes assessed for the year 2012 and previous years. (d) Plaintiff's Court costs and attorney fees.

The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions: (1) The property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of the parties to this action; (2) The purchaser shall be required to pay the sum of 10% of the purchase price in cash, certified funds or by other immediately verifiable collectible medium of exchange acceptable to the Commissioner, on the day of sale to apply on the purchase price; (3) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable within sixty (60) days after the day of sale; (4) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond with good and sufficient surety thereon as approved by the Commissioner to secure the unpaid portion of the purchase price, the bond to bear interest at the rate of 12% per annum from the day of sale until paid, the bond to have the same force and effect as a judgment and shall remain a lien on the property as additional security until the purchase price is paid in full; (5) In the event that the Plaintiff is the successful purchaser, it shall be entitled to a credit on its judgment against the purchase price and shall only be obligated to pay court costs, the fees and costs of the Master Commissioner, and any real estate taxes payable pursuant to this order, and in that event, no bond shall be required; (6) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying the bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal together with all accrued interest thereon until the date of payment; (7) The purchaser shall obtain possession of the property upon confirmation of the sale by the Court and payment of the purchase price in full; (8) All ad valorem taxes on the property for calendar year 2013 and all subsequent years shall be assumed and paid by the purchaser. All real property taxes due and owing to Harrison County or the City of Cynthiana for 2012 and prior years will be paid from the proceeds of sale. (9) The property shall be sold subject to any assessment for public improvements levied against the property and subject to all rules and regulations enforced by the Cynthiana-Harrison County-Berry Joint Planning and Zoning Commission, all applicable health and safety regulations, all restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Harrison County Court Clerk's Office, governmental laws and regulations affecting the property, and shall be subject to any unrecorded easements, discrepancies or conflicts in boundary lines, shortage in area and encroachments, if any there be, which an accurate and complete survey or an inspection of the property would disclose; (10) The purchaser shall bear the risk of loss on the improvements on the property and the risk of loss shall pass to the purchaser as of the day and time of sale; (11) The property shall be sold with any improvements thereon "as is"; and (12) The property shall be sold subject to such right of redemption as may exist in favor of the United States of America pursuant to 28 USC Section 2410, and the right of redemption of the Defendants.

All bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

PATIENTS OF DONALD R. STEPHENS, M.D., P.S.C.

I, Sonia Stephens, on behalf of my late husband, myself, the Stephens family, as well as the staff of Donald R. Stephens, M.D., P.S.C. (i.e., Jane Ann, Patti, Genie, Lisa, Ann) want to sincerely thank you for your trust in choosing my husband as a medical provider. Over a career surpassing fifty years, Don truly dedicated himself to his medical services he provided to his patients and thrived on attempting to provide the best care possible to each and every patient he treated, truly symbolizing the Hippocratic Oath.

While it comes with great sadness that I am posting this public notice due to the unexpected passing of my beloved husband, Donald R. Stephens, I am also writing you to inform you of the tremendous news that Harrison Memorial Hospital has agreed to purchase the medical practice of Donald R. Stephens, M.D., P.S.C., and take possession and future retention of all medical records of Donald R. Stephens, M.D., P.S.C., as of November 1, 2013.

Therefore, if you should ever need your medical records that are located at Donald R. Stephens, M.D., P.S.C., after November 1, 2013, you need to direct and make that request in writing to Harrison Memorial Hospital, Attn: Zona Babb, HI Manager, 1210 KY Highway 36E, Cynthiana, Kentucky, 41031.

However, if you every have any questions regarding billing and/or accounts of Donald R. Stephens, M.D., P.S.C., those requests also need to be made in writing and directed to Donald R. Stephens, M.D., P.S.C., Attn: Billing/Accounts Request, P.O. Box 345, Mount Olivet, Kentucky, 41064.

Sincerely,

SONIA STEPHENS

859.234.1035NOTICE OF COMPLAINT
FOR FORECLOSURE IN
HARRISON COUNTY

Notice is hereby given that on October 11, 2013 Fifth Third Bank filed a Complaint in the Harrison Circuit Court, Cynthiana, Kentucky. The suit, being Civil Action No. 13-CI-00268, seeks to enforce a lien it claims to have on property located at 113 Taylor Drive, Cynthiana, Kentucky 41031 by virtue of a mortgage, filed for record on August 14, 1995 in Mortgage Book 137, Page 464, of the Harrison County Court Clerk's Office. The object of said suit is to obtain from the Court recognition that the lien is valid, and for the Court to order the sale of the property to help satisfy an alleged amount owed.

Any person who is an heir, devisee, or legatee of Ruth M. Reeves, deceased, formerly a resident of Cynthiana, Harrison County, Kentucky, must file an Answer to the suit in the Office of the Harrison Circuit Court Clerk, 115 Court Street, Suite 1, Cynthiana, Kentucky, in accordance with the Kentucky Rules of Civil Procedure, within fifty (50) days of October 11, 2013.

The failure of any person having the right to answer within the fifty (50) day period may result in such person being forever barred and foreclosed as to any defense or objection he or she might have to the sale, and the judgment may be taken by default.

Bidding questions may be directed to Brandstetter Carroll Inc. at 513-651-4224.

Each bidder is required to furnish with its proposal, a Bid Guaranty and Contract Bond (5% of total bid). Bid security furnished in Bond form, shall be issued by a Surety Company or Corporation licensed in the State of Kentucky to provide said surety.

Each proposal must contain the full name of the party or parties submitting the proposal and all persons interested therein. Each bidder must submit evidence of its experiences on projects of similar size and complexity, and a complete listing of all subcontractors to be used.

The right is reserved by the OWNER to reject any or all bids, and to waive any informality in bids received and to accept any bid which is deemed to be the lowest and best bid.

The Contractor shall have 14 days from the Notice to Proceed to fully complete the project, excluding final pavement markings. It is anticipated that the contractor will not receive a Notice to Proceed until Spring 2014 (tentatively scheduled for Monday, April 14, 2014).

The Contractor selection shall be based upon the summation of the bid items, excluding the alternate.

No BIDDER may withdraw his BID for a period of sixty (60) days after the scheduled closing time for the receipt of the bids.

To the Kentucky Board of Education, Frankfort, KY:

In Compliance with Kentucky Revised Statutes and the regulations of the Kentucky Board of Education, we, the board of education of the above named school district, hereby submit for your approval the following tax rates levied on 08/29/2013.

For rates that exceeded compensating and HB 940 tax rates, the notice and hearing requirements of KRS 160.470(7)(b) "...published at least twice for two (2) consecutive weeks, in the newspaper of largest circulation in the county....the public hearing which shall be held not less than seven (7) days nor more than ten (10) days after the day that the second advertisement is published;" have been met.

An advertisement was placed in the Cynthiana Democrat newspaper on 08/15/2013 (date of first advertisement) and 08/22/2013 (date of second advertisement).

The public hearing was held on 08/29/2013.

For rates subject to recall, an additional advertisement was made on within 7 days of the hearing as required by KRS 160.470(8). Once the forty-five (45) days have passed since the rate was levied, we will send notification of whether a valid petition was presented. If a valid petition was presented, we will indicate whether we intend to place the issue before the voters for approval.

If advertisement was required, the rates levied do not exceed the proposed rates advertised.
